A meeting of representatives of the Cumberland River Improvement Association will be held in Nashville Monday May, 5. This meeting means a great deal to Jackson county, and a large delegation should be present.

The government has ruled that it will not spend any more money on rivers where no arrangement is made for taking care of the land overflowed by the locks and dams. This duty is placed on the counties along the rivers so affected. Go, if you can, and help put it over, it can be accomplished, by having representatives there from this county and Clay and Smith.
